Design Development & Visualization

2026-2027

ABOUT THE ARTIST

NA'DEJ BAILEY (2003) - American visual artist with years of digital art, videography, and animation experience. Graduated from Chattahoochee Technical College in December 2025 with an AAS degree in Interior Design, now collaborating with senior designers to develop and visualize interior design concepts through 3D models and various methods of communicating design intent.

Objective is to help designers and clients bring their vision to life, transforming ideas from imagination into something they can see, experience, and connect with. Through thoughtfully crafted 3D spaces, the design becomes clear and tangible, making the journey from concept to reality feel both exciting and achievable.

Furniture models are constructed using reference images and overall dimensions to recreate pieces with accurate proportions and detailing.

Volumetric space models are constructed from the referencing of photos and field measurement sketches drawn by the senior designer.

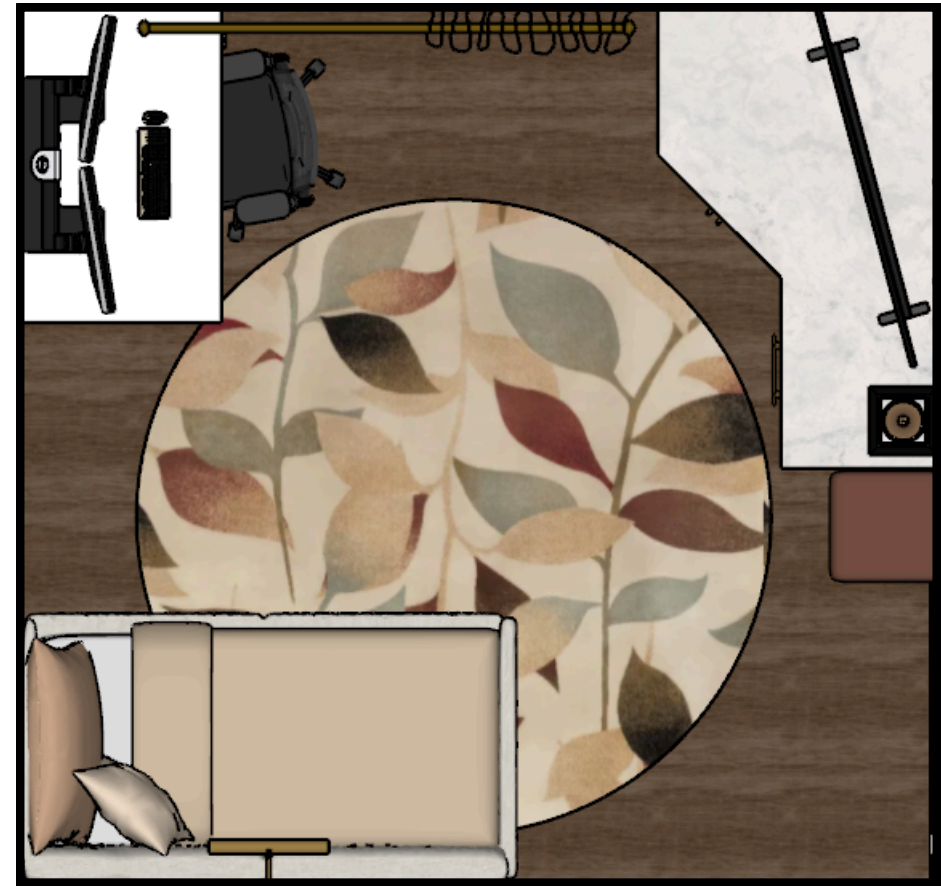

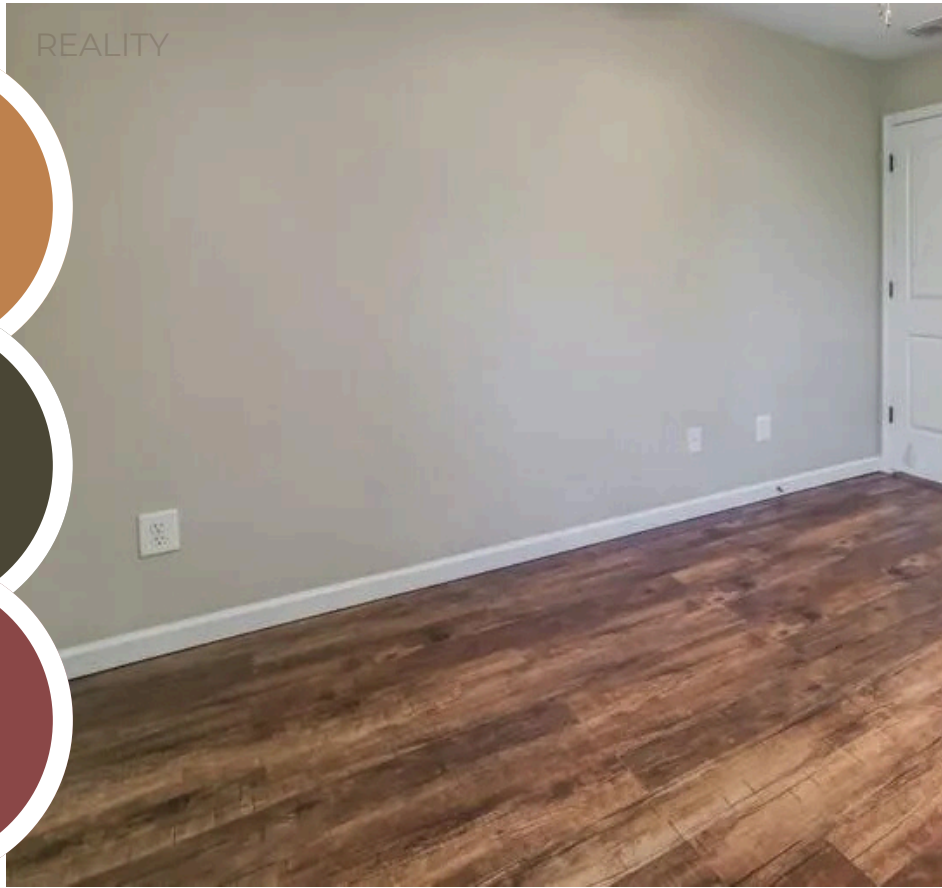

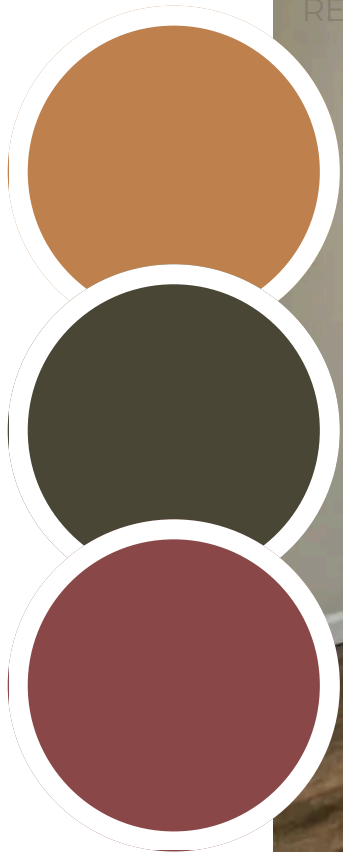

3D models compared to the undeveloped and developed space.

Recreated space to visualize the addition of a rug.

Renderings demonstrate how materials interact with lighting and atmosphere. Cinematic-quality walkthroughs provide an immersive experience of the complete design.

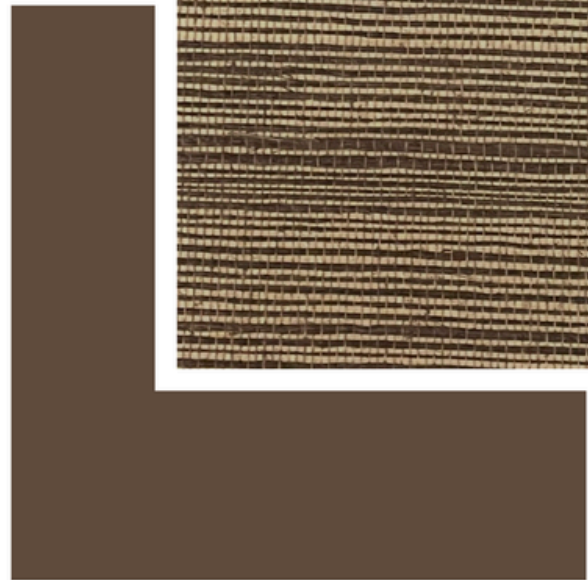

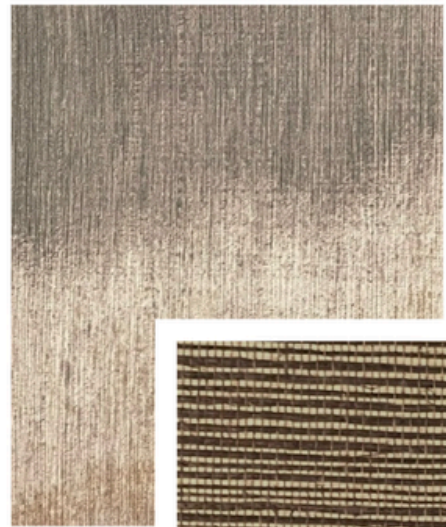

On top of high-resolution textures and advanced lighting, the intentionally warm, foggy atmosphere with a subtle vignette characterize a distinct approach to realism renderings for design in theory. For design in practice, site visits are the opportunity to assess and recreate the existing conditions.
